

NEW Multimodal solution from Germany to Russia and CIS countries via Kaliningrad

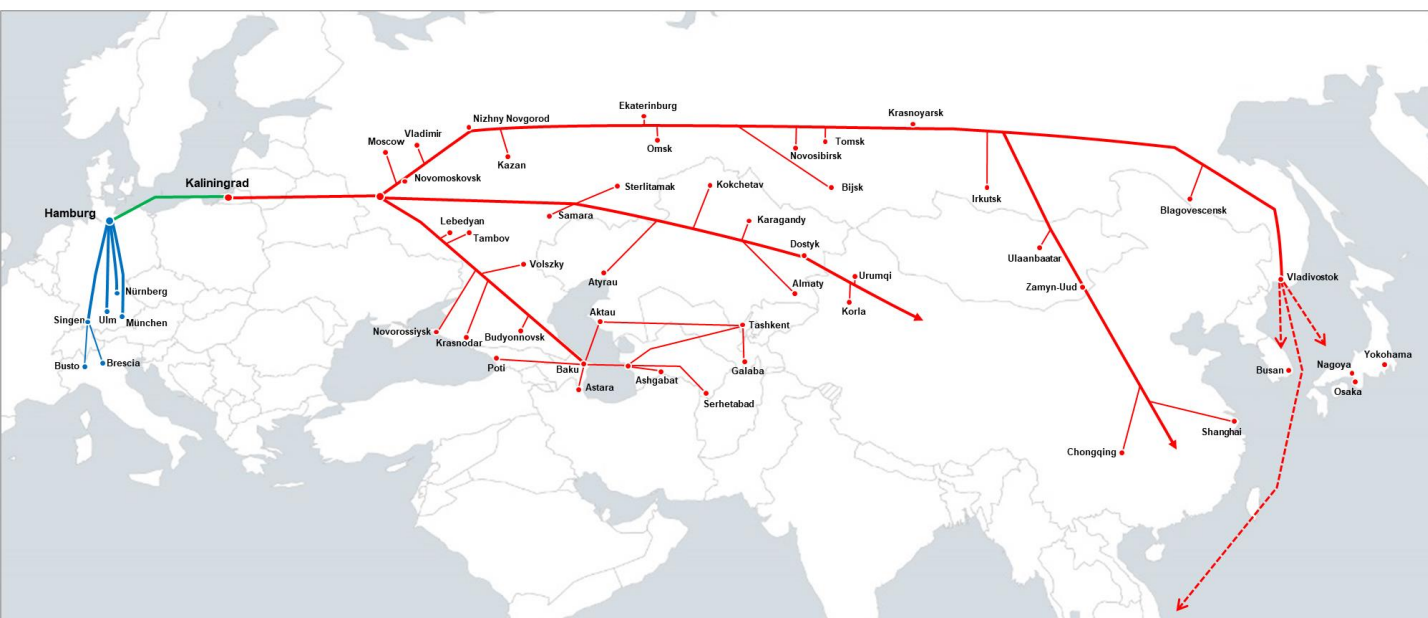

Intermodal Express launches a new multimodal connection between Germany and Russia, CIS countries and the Far East. The service is performed in cooperation with ERS Railways and Mann Lines and will start on 22 November 2019.

The central element of the service is the solution via the Port of Kaliningrad in Russia connected to Hamburg by short sea shipping of Mann Lines. In Hamburg, the intermodal operator ERS Railways offers a wide range of connections to southern Germany as well as to Italy, directly from the pier.

In Kaliningrad, Intermodal Express takes over your shipments and delivers them to a great variety of destinations in Russia, Kazakhstan, Georgia and other CIS countries, up to China, Japan, Korea and south-east Asia.

All types of ISO containers – DV, high cube, tank containers etc. – are welcome. The service admits dangerous goods cargo, thus offering an innovative transport solution for the Eurasian market.

Happy to welcome you on board of this new multimodal service that will improve quality and frequency of transportation on the Eurasian platform!
